SYNOPSIS: Under existing law, in all criminal and civil cases in which a person is entitled to a trial by jury, the jury is comprised of 12 persons. Under existing law, the Constitution of Alabama of 1901, provides that the right to trial by jury shall remain inviolate. The Alabama Supreme Court has interpreted this provision of the constitution to prohibit a general law authorizing a six person jury in a civil case.

This bill would set the size of a jury at six persons in all criminal cases involving only misdemeanor charges. This bill would also set the size of a jury at six persons in certain civil cases in which an appeal would be to the Court of Civil Appeals. This bill would provide for an effective date contingent upon ratification of a constitutional amendment authorizing the Legislature to set by general law the size of juries at six for criminal cases that involve only

1	misdemeanor charges and civil cases in which an
2	appeal would be to the Court of Civil Appeals.

4	A BILL
5	TO BE ENTITLED
6	AN ACT
7
8	To provide for the size of a jury in all criminal
9	cases involving only misdemeanor charges; to provide for the
10	size of a jury in civil cases in which an appeal would be to
11	the Court of Civil Appeals; and to provide for an effective
12	date contingent upon ratification of a constitutional
13	amendment authorizing the Legislature to set the size of
14	juries in those cases by general law.
15	BE IT ENACTED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF ALABAMA:
16	Section 1. In all criminal cases involving only
17	misdemeanor charges in which the defendant requests a trial by
18	jury, the size of the jury shall be six persons.
19	Section 2. In civil cases in which there is a right
20	to trial by jury, the size of the jury shall be six persons in
21	all cases in which an appeal would be to the Court of Civil
22	Appeals.
23	Section 3. This act shall become effective
24	immediately following ratification of a constitutional
25	amendment authorizing the Legislature to set the size of

26

juries by general law.
