11 Pond, Cullman County, Alabama, during the prohibition era
12 and before the first talking movie was made; popular songs
13 that year include "Valencia" by Paul Whiteman, "Bye Bye, 14 Blackbird" by Gene Austin, and "I'm Sitting on Top of the 15 World" by Al Jolson; and the 1925 Alabama Crimson Tide
16 football team played in the Rose Bowl on January 1, 1926, 17 earning their first national championship; and

18 WHEREAS, Louise Bice married Verbon Ray Carr in 1947
19 at 21 years of age, remaining married until his passing in 20 2000; they were blessed with a son, Harold Carr, and 21 grandchildren, Bradley Carr and Holly Dutton; she is 22 great-grandmother to Jackson Dutton and Addie Dutton; and

23 WHEREAS, Verbon worked in the steel industry for U.S.
24 Steel, American Bridge, and Americo; they lived in 25 Birmingham, Detroit, and Cullman during their marriage
26 before settling in Holly Pond where Louise owned a chicken
27 farm; she also worked for the railroad and Oneida Sewing 28 Plant; and

HR136 INTRODUCED

29           WHEREAS, Louise enjoys crafting, needlepoint,
30   crochet, and puzzles; she is also well-known at the Holly
31   Pond Senior Center and in her family as the "Domino Queen"; 32   and

33           WHEREAS, a centennial birthday is a significant 34   milestone, representing 10 decades of wisdom earned and 35   memories gained and is a time of great rejoicing; now 36   therefore,

37           BE IT RESOLVED BY THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES OF THE 38   LEGISLATURE OF ALABAMA, That Louise Bice Carr is highly 39   honored and commended on the occasion of her 100th birthday,
40   and this resolution is offered to her in highest tribute,
41   along with sincere best wishes for continued health,
42   happiness, and blessings.
